

Networked Activism (just one example)

Violence Against Women

The Annual Candlelight Vigil Across the Internet

On December 6th, 1989, 14 women were killed for being "feminists" at the Ecole Polytechnique in Montreal. This tragedy in Canadian history has not b

Our aim is to raise awareness of violence against women across Canada and throughout cyberspace, by presenting this Candlelight vigil across the Intern

Although this site was created back in November 1996 for what was originally intended to be a week-long vigil, your response has far surpassed our exp
years have passed since this vigil first began, and violence against women continues to be an issue close to our hearts. Thank you for your tremendous st these past few years and for joining in this protest against all forms of violence against women. Again, we will keep this site up and running all year long that violence happens every day to women across Canada and all over the world.

In memory of women everywhere whose lives have been affected by violence, please place a candle image on your Web page and link it back to this one

Simply click on the image size you'd like from the ones below. Then (if you're using Netscape) click on File then Save As.. and save the file. We then ask this JPEG on your Home Page and link it back to this page. Please set your link to:

Note Our New Location: If you have linked to us in the past, please note this site has changed domain names.

If you would prefer a GIF image to a JPEG (for transparent images) please go here. Thank you.

candle2.jpg

candle3.jpg

candle4.jpg

More On Violence Against Women

Some December 6th Events

(Largest image size offered 5kb!)

In 1996, the Canadian Women's Internet Association created a candle image and asked participants to paste the image on their own sites to advocate against domestic violence.

PASSIONS AND BELIEFS

Missing Children's Prayer

Dear Lord, we ask of you...
Keep these children safe and sound.
Let no harm come before they are found.
If they're lost from their family for many a season,
Return them home before the end of a season.
Place your loving arms around each little shoulder,
Guide them safely back home, strong as soldiers.
Amen.

These are some of the special causes that are very dear to our hearts so please allow time for the page to fully load.

*Being Parents & Grand-parents, I never want to imagine the pain, torment and suffering these children and their families endured during these very trying and difficult times. We have never been unfortunate enough to lose a child and God willing we never will.
Please say a prayer for all the children of the world, in particular these children and their families who were forced to be seperated... please help bring them home safely to their loved ones to be re-united.*

As far as we are aware there are no similar rings in Australia, but should anyone reading this know of one, please email us as soon as possible. Regardless of which town, city or country in the World you may live, these tragedies are happening more and more each day, let's put a stop to this NOW!!

Help the children and show your support by joining the following rings.

Networked Activism (just one example)

The Annual Candlelight Vigil Across the Internet

On December 6th, 1989, 14 women were killed for being "feminists" at the Ecole Polytechnique in Montreal. This tragedy in Canadian history has not b

Our aim is to raise awareness of violence against women across Canada and throughout cyberspace, by presenting this Candlelight vigil across the Intern

Although this site was created back in November 1996 for what was originally intended to be a week-long vigil, your response has far surpassed our exp
years have passed since this vigil first began, and violence against women continues to be an issue close to our hearts. Thank you for your tremendous st
these past few years and for joining in this protest against all forms of violence against women. Again, we will keep this site up and running all year long that violence happens every day to women across Canada and all over the world.

In memory of women everywhere whose lives have been affected by violence, please place a candle image on your Web page and link it back to this one

Simply click on the image size you'd like from the ones below. Then (if you're using Netscape) click on File then Save As... and save the file. We then as this JPEG on your Home Page and link it back to this page. Please set your link to:

Note Our New Location: If you have linked to us in the past, please note this site has changed domain names.

If you would prefer a GIF image to a JPEG (for transparent images) please go here. Thank you.

More On Violence Against Women

Some December 6th Events

(Largest image size offered 5kb!)

In 1996, the Canadian Women's Internet Association created a candle image and asked participants to paste the image on their own sites to advocate against domestic violence.

A screenshot of a website titled "PASSIONS AND BELIEFS" in blue, serif font, framed by a pink floral border. The main content is a "Missing Children's Prayer" enclosed in a black box with white text. The prayer reads: "Dear Lord, we ask of you... Keep these children safe and sound. Let no harm come before they are found. They're lost from their family for many a reason. Return them home before the end of a season. Place your loving arms around each little shoulder. Guide them safely back home, strong as soldiers. Amen." Below the prayer, there is a paragraph of text: "These are some of the special causes that are very dear to our hearts so please allow time for the page to fully load." This is followed by a paragraph: "Being Parents & Grand-parents, I never want to imagine the pain, torment and suffering these children and their families endured during these very trying and difficult times. We have never been unfortunate enough to lose a child and God willing we never will. Please say a prayer for all the children of the world, in particular these children and their families who were forced to be seperated... please help bring them home safely to their loved ones to be re-united." At the bottom, there is a paragraph: "As far as we are aware there are no similar rings in Australia, but should anyone reading this know of one, please email us as soon as possible. Regardless of which town, city or country in the World you may live, these tragedies are happening more and more each day, let's put a stop to this NOW!!." and a final line: "Help the children and show your support by joining the following rings." The website has a pink background and a vertical strip of small images on the left side.

Networked Art or net.art!

Examples taken from:

Rhizome Hypertext Collection

Rhizome Artbase